

Position: Audio Operator

Purpose: To mix audio for the Sunday morning worship service.

Responsibilities: Arrive by 7:30am on Sunday morning.

Soundcheck the band, making sure all channels are working and levels are appropriate. Basic EQing of vocals and instruments is done at this time.

Participate in the worship rehearsal from 7:30 to 8:30am on Sunday morning, taking note of song leaders, spoken words, instrumental solos, etc. so that adjustments to levels can be made during the service.

Prepare wireless mics for speakers.

Mix audio for both 9am and 11am services.

Following the second service, help clear the stage.

Accountability: This ministry falls under the leadership of the Technical Director.

Scheduling is done by the Technical Director. Depending on your individual availability, you may be scheduled once or twice per month, more or less depending on your specific needs.

The audio operator is a crucial member of our Sunday morning team, making our morning worship experience seamless and enjoyable. You will gain valuable experience in technical ministry and a skill-set that can support your special interests, or career path, in the technical arts. Some prior experience in audio mixing is beneficial, but the opportunity to learn from the very beginning is possible!
